

This is where I will say my first 2 lines.

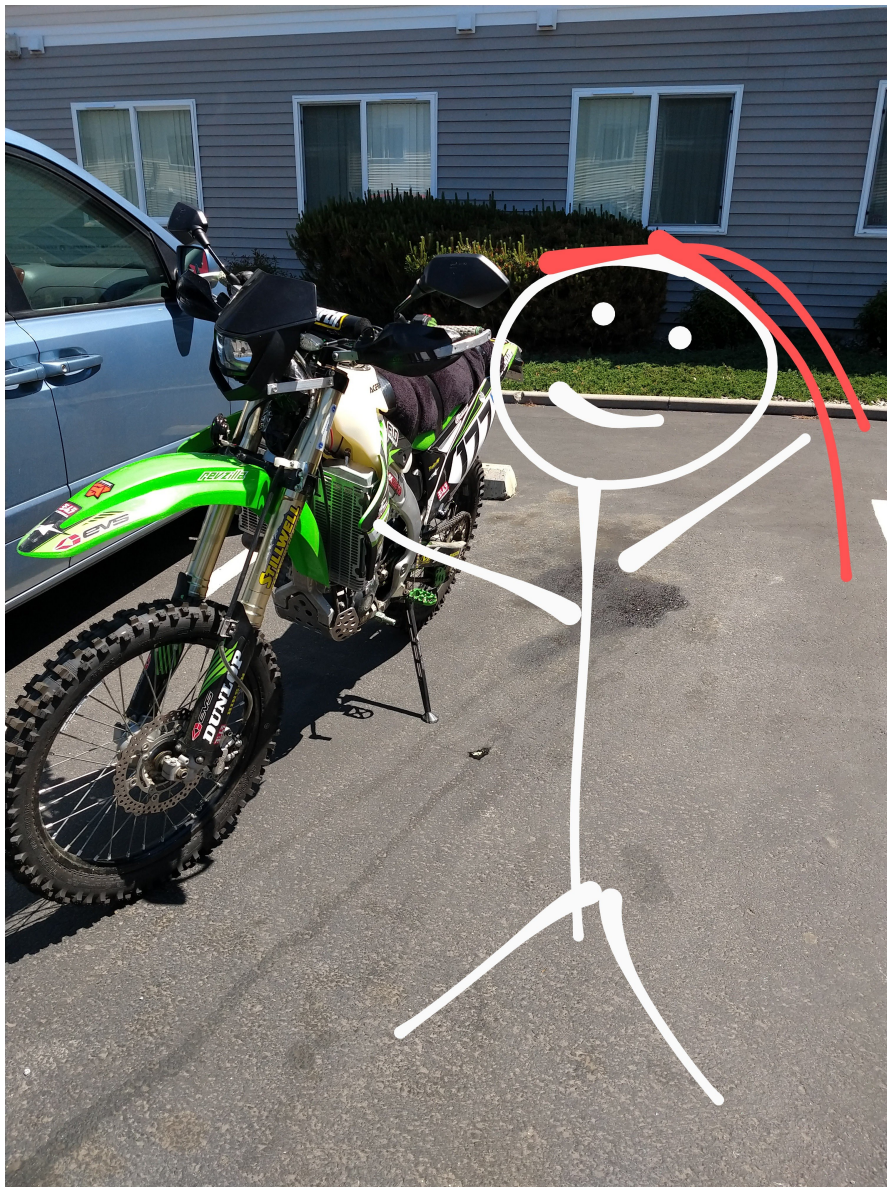

This table is where the dialogue scene with my Daughter will take place. I am shooting that today.

This is the "evidence" photo on my phone for the end of the dialogue scene.

This is the couch where the family will be watching TV, eating popcorn, and laughing.

This is the high tech laboratory and my scientist.

This is the product being created and the finished product (Please do not try this at home).
